

Complaints Policy

We recognise that occasionally people may be dissatisfied or concerned about their interactions with the Charity or its fundraisers, and we hope that problems can be reconciled between the parties concerned. If not, then we will deal with any complaint promptly, thoroughly, impartially and sympathetically. All complaints will be dealt with in strict confidence.

Our policy is to offer redress to substantiated complaints and to revise and review our practices and correct any shortcomings that are within our control in response to concerns. The policy applies to all staff and Trustees who may find themselves required to receive, initially respond to, investigate and/or resolve a complaint and ensure that learnings are acted upon and procedures revised and implemented to avoid further complaints in future.

1. BACKGROUND

The Charity seeks to constantly improve its service to donors, supporters and members of the public and ensure our policy adheres to best practice. We always aim to treat all our donors and supporters with the highest level of care and respect. However, we recognise that on occasion we may not meet their expectations or our own high standards.

Although a few complaints may be vexatious and/or unfounded, the majority are made because the person making the complaint actually cares about the Charity. We understand that a person's perceptions cannot be wrong. We will respond to how a person has perceived the situation. It is far better to receive a complaint, handle it well and thereby ensure a happy supporter than to lose donors by not taking their concerns seriously. Without complaints we can often fail to appreciate our own shortcomings, so they are an important part of our service.

2. DEFINITIONS

A complaint is: "an expression of dissatisfaction which requires investigation, action (if appropriate) and/or follow up verbally or in writing."

The Fundraising Regulator's Code of Fundraising Practice states (1.6):

- a) Organisations MUST have a complaints procedure which MUST also apply to any Third Parties fundraising on their behalf.
- b) Organisations MUST respond to any complaints from donors, beneficiaries or other parties in a timely, respectful, open and honest way.
- c) Organisations MUST ensure that the learnings from any complaints are acted upon.

Reasons for making a complaint might include:

- A failure of an activity, service or system which affects an individual or a group of people, causing inconvenience, upset or loss
- Marketing/fundraising collateral which is misleading, inaccurate or has caused upset or offence
- Personal contact with a staff member or representative of the Charity which was inaccurate or misleading or which has caused upset or offence.

The following would not be treated as complaints:

- A simple request for removal from the Charity's database
- A request for other data markers to be removed or corrected
- A change of address
- A comment or remark with no response expected/required.

All complaints should be made within one month of the event leading to the complaint or of you becoming aware of a cause for complaint. However we recognise that each case needs to be judged individually, and for complaints that fall outside of the time limits, the Charity may exercise its discretion to apply the complaints procedure.

3. CONFIDENTIALITY AND ANONYMITY

Complainants are entitled to remain anonymous if they prefer. However we do suggest that they give us their name and contact details so that we can fully investigate the complaint and report back.

Any personal details will be kept fully confidential, in accordance with data protection legislation, and only be shown to people who need to see them in order to investigate the complaint.

4. ADVOCATES / REPRESENTATIVES

We are happy to receive a complaint through an advocate or representative, if they know full details relating to the case. If someone else writes the complaint on the complainant's behalf the complainant should sign the report to confirm that the contents are accurate and true.

5. INFORMAL COMPLAINTS

If an informal complaint is made (i.e. verbally, bringing a matter to our attention but not wanting to make a formal complaint), we will respond verbally within seven working days, either in a face-to-face meeting or telephone conversation. This will be recorded for our records, but we will not give a written response (unless we are specifically asked for one). All formal complaints will receive a full, written response. In either case, complaints will be taken seriously and dealt with swiftly.

6. THE CHARITY'S COMPLAINTS PROCEDURE

Our Policy aims to:

- provide a fair complaints procedure which is clear and easy to use
- publicise our complaints procedure so that people know how to make a complaint
- make sure that all complaints are investigated in a timely way
- make sure that complaints are, wherever possible, resolved quickly, fairly and effectively and that relationships are repaired
- gather information which helps us to improve what we do

Procedure Stage 1

- A complaint can be communicated to the Charity by mail, email, or in person.
- On receiving a complaint, by whatever means, this will be recorded on the Charity's complaints log. The log entry will include the name and contact details of the complainant and their relationship with the Charity (for example: donor, event participant or volunteer) together with details of the nature of their complaint and the date of the incident giving rise to it.

- A letter will be sent to the complainant as soon as possible but certainly within 7 working days to confirm that the complaint will be investigated and to outline the complaints procedure and explain the process. During this period, the complainant may be asked to provide further information if this is required.
- The complaint will be investigated by a relevant person (and not by any person named or involved in the complaint).
- A formal response will be sent within 14 working days of the complaint being received. If this is not a final report then the response will indicate progress so far and give a likely timescale within which a full response will be issued.
- Our full response will include facts that we have been able to establish through our investigation, whilst also identifying any conflicts of interest. During our investigation we will talk to all parties and any witnesses to any incident. We will then outline whether we believe the complaint to be justified and any proposals to address upheld concerns. We will always make an apology where that is appropriate.
- We hope that we will resolve the issue satisfactorily for all parties concerned. However if the complainant is dissatisfied with the response or with the way the complaint has been handled, the response will make clear that they should then contact the Charity again.

Most complaints should be resolved at this stage. If the complainant gets back in touch because they are still not happy, then the case will be escalated to Stage 2 and the complainant should be informed that this is the case.

Procedure Stage 2

- At this stage, the complaint should be escalated to the Chairman, with copies of all correspondence and case documentation. The Chairman will then decide whether or not to uphold the response of the Charity.
- Within 14 days, the Chairman will write to the complainant with this final decision and the reasons for it. Whether the complaint is upheld or not, the reply to the complainant should describe what action will be taken as a result of the complaint.
- This decision will be final. However the complainant may contact the Charity Commission or the Fundraising Regulator for further advice if they are still unhappy.

7. HOW COMPLAINTS WILL BE RECORDED AND USED CONSTRUCTIVELY

All complaints we receive are recorded in a Complaints Log which will include:

- Date complaint received
- Date of incident complained of
- Brief description of incident
- Preferred method of contact
- Nature / category of complaint
- Date investigation concluded
- Outcomes, actions or learning that results

A summary of the log will be reviewed periodically by the Board of Trustees to assess the nature and extent of complaints made in the period, how they were resolved, and to discuss any actions required to prevent similar incidents occurring in the future.

The Charity will always engage with complaints constructively and aim to make necessary improvements or put in place required training in order to prevent similar issues occurring in the future.

8. MALICIOUS COMPLAINTS

The Charity will accept any complaint in good faith. However, complaints made on the basis of discrimination, or malicious or vexatious complaints will not be tolerated. In order to protect its employees the Charity will investigate such complaints in a manner so as to expose such malicious intent. This will not apply to genuine complainants

Our process

Stage 1:

New complaints will be formally recorded and acknowledged (within 7 working days). A full response will be provided within 14 working days, once we have been able to investigate the details of your complaint. We may get in touch with you during this time to clarify any points with you. If this is the case, your full and prompt response will enable us to resolve your complaint as soon as possible.

Where your concerns require us to undertake further investigations and we are not able to provide a full resolution as part of our initial response we will provide you with an expected timescale for our response as part of your acknowledgement and keep you up-to-date at regular intervals throughout our investigations. Where this is the case, we will also tell you who is managing your complaint so you have a point of contact should you need to get in touch with us.

Stage 2:

If you are dissatisfied with the reply you receive at Stage 1 and you let us know within 14 working days of the date of our reply, your complaint will be passed to the Chairman, to review it and how it was handled. We will confirm to you that your complaint has been escalated to Stage 2 and give you a date by which you will hear from us again.

The Chairman will aim to reply to you in full within 14 working days but if they are not able to do this, they will let you know the date by which they expect to reply.

Following this, if you remain dissatisfied you can get in touch with either the Fundraising Regulator, if your complaint is about fundraising, or the Charity Commission, for other areas of our work. Their contact details are:
